

A silhouette of a person riding a bicycle is shown against a bright sunset sky. The person is wearing a helmet and a light-colored shirt. The background features a body of water and distant hills.

Every time
I see an adult on
a bicycle,
I no longer
despair for the future of the human race.

H. G. Wells

